

From Luke 1:68-79

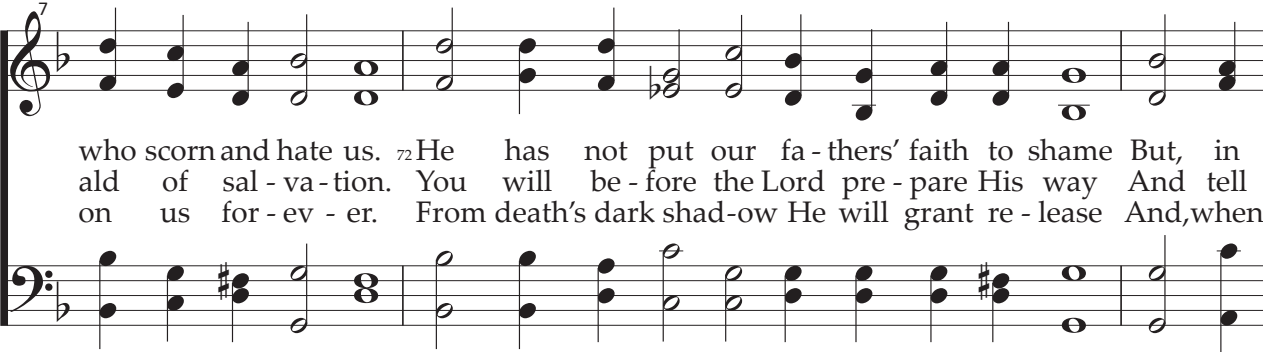

1. ⁶⁸Blest be the God of Is - ra - el, For He has come to set me free;
 2. ⁷⁴His faith-ful - ness He has now shown, That we might serve Him with-out fear,
 3. ⁷⁷As God has pro-mised, all our sins Will be for - giv - en, swept a - way.

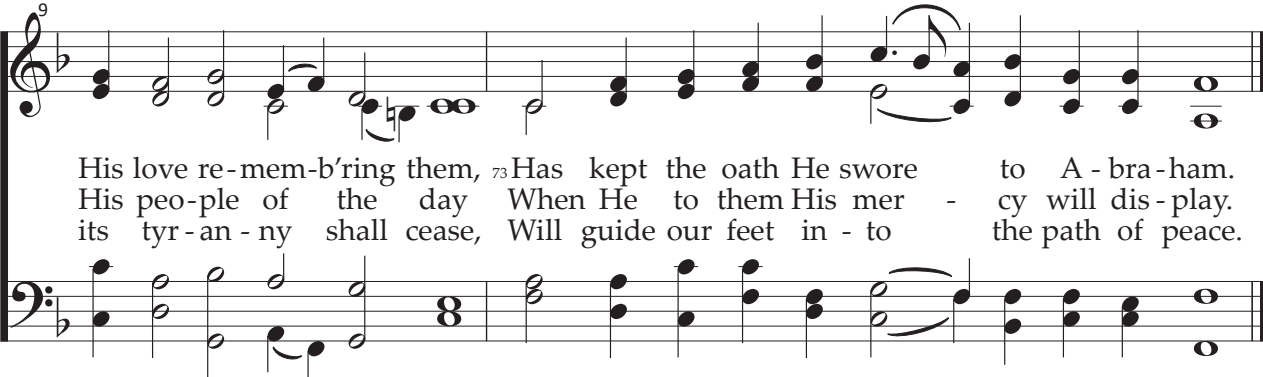

⁶⁹In Da-vid's house the Lord has raised Sal - va - tion's horn for all to see.
⁷⁵That all our days with up - right hearts We in His pre-sence might ap - pear.
⁷⁸He from on high in ten - der love Will bless us with the glo - rious day

⁷⁰He through His proph-ets long a-go ⁷¹Said He would save us from our foe, From all ⁷⁶Of you, my child, it will be said That God Most High sent you a-head As her -
 On which be - fore our ver - y eyes ⁷⁹The ra - dant Morn-ing Sun will rise To shine who scorn and hate us. ⁷²He has not put our fa - thers' faith to shame But, in ald of sal - va - tion. You will be - fore the Lord pre - pare His way And tell on us for - ev - er. From death's dark shad-ow He will grant re - lease And, when

His love re-mem-b'ring them, ⁷³Has kept the oath He swore to A - bra - ham.
 His peo-ple of the day When He to them His mer - cy will dis - play.
 its tyr - an - ny shall cease, Will guide our feet in - to the path of peace.